

Lyndy Butler

Genre: Indi

"I'm Lyndy Butler. Im a singer/songwriter from southern Utah and I love a lot of stuff. Mostly chips and salsa, cold soda-pop, my family, and music - sometimes in that order. I've been singing my songs, and playing in bands for years and years.

You can check out my "Youtube" channel where I post silly videos of my stay-at-home momma/musician life. or you can read about our crazy adventures on my blog . I spend my days writing songs, changing bums, making music videos, singing on stages, serving up mac n cheese, and making new friends. Its a happy little life." -Lyndy

Singing and writing music has always been a part of Lyndy's life, but she never thought of doing it as a career. She wanted to be a teacher and use music to lift and encourage young lives. She graduated with her teaching degree and in 2008 opened a performing arts preschool called 'Talent Sprouts' in Santa Clara, Utah, where she taught piano, guitar, and musical theater classes to hundreds of Southern Utah Sprouts.

In the fall of 2010, Lyndy entered her first songwriters competition in years. She was selected from among some of the best professional & amature Utah and Western regional musicians to compete in a performance showcase. She won first place and was on her way to the Durango Songwriters Expo in Santa Barbara, California. After meeting with music industry professionals and being told that she had real potential, but it would take trips to Nashville, music tours and a hefty sum of seed money, Lyndy reevaluated what she really wanted. She didn't want to spend her time chasing a label. She chose to raise her young family and make and promote her music independently. Fortunately, she has a growing fan base in Southern Utah and throughout the world just by doing things her own way.

Lyndy's Debut Album 'The Dream' was released in 2011. Backed by incredibly talented musicians, she's taking her singular sound, her ability to connect to an audience of kids, or kids at heart, and doing what she set out to do in the beginning, encouraging and inspiring others through song. When Lyndy isn't performing she is fighting crime, flying, and doing other normal mom/wife stuff.

“Lyndy Butler has a style all of her own. A swath of warm sunny music that wakes you up and reminds you that life is good.”
