

CARLIE WALL

Genre: Indi Original Rock

Carlie Wall

Singer, song writer, guitarist Carlie Wall age 15 has taken Southern Utah quite literally by storm. With an ability to blend mature lyrics with her dynamic vocal textures, Carlie has quickly become recognized as an accomplished entertainer.

Among her recent accolades, Carlie has been featured on 95.9 The Hawk Radio Station, featured performer at such events as the Dixie Escalante Kite Festival, Utah State Fair, St. George Art Festival, American Family Fest, and the Washington County Fair. The Southern Utah Songwriters Association has chosen Carlie as one of the "BEST OF" for 2009, and her recorded song, "Glass Wall" will be featured on their SUSWA CD in the Fall of 2010. Carlie won 1st Place in the Vernal Colgate Country Showdown.

Having played the guitar since she was ten years old and demonstrating singing distinction at the age of five, Carlie is no stranger to performing. She has over 25 songs in her musical portfolio, including her tribute to the soldiers in a song called "Thanks to You" which has been made into a music video. Her singing has been cultivated by vocal coach Brodie Perry with training on the guitar by Steve Adam, and her band is made up of seasoned veterans: Brandon Clove, Rich Robbins and Dave Smith, a group that possess over forty-five combined years of professional music experience.

Comfortable on stage either as a solo artist or with her full-fledged band, Carlie has the love of music and the love of sharing her music with her rapidly emergent following of fans. Recently, she performed to a sold-out crowd at Jazzy Java with her band.

Recently, Carlie recorded several of her songs for her album "Someday" at "The Studio" and she recorded her music video, "Thanks to You," at "The 17th Street Studio" in Costa Mesa, California. She also recently opened for "Shallow Day" in St. George, Utah.

"Carlie is grounded in her talent and it makes her unstoppable, She is a full package!" TMC at New Artist Radio

To Book Carlie Wall email: raquelawall@hotmail.com